Interest in the contest does not cease with the announcement of the awards. There is something good to come. The criticism to be written by Miss Dickson should interest every reader of The Republican. The tone of her letter which was among the first to be received in answer to the question propounded was such as to create the belief that her story of the play should be sane and interesting.

Merely as a suggestion it is stated

GETTING AT THE FACTS.

An Ice Cream Tragedy Rehearsed in a Macon Court.

In a criminal case tried in the Shelby county circuit court this week Lydia Hughes, a pretty 16-year-old girl of Clarence, was put on by the state to contradict the defendant, Alson Hutton, who had testified he was not in Clarence on a certain evening in June. The cross-examination of Miss Lydia by the defendant's attorney, J. D. Dale, brought out the following "sensational" information:

Q. Who was with you that night?

A. Jim Jones.

Q. You went to the ice cream supper?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was it held?

A. In the park, the west side.

Q. Who else was there beside you and Jim Jones?

A. I saw Bob Oliver and his girl, and Frank Oliver and his girl—there was quite a good many.

Q. Where was Hutton and Miss Katie when you saw them?

A. In front of the Harris bakery.

Q. Then you didn't see them at the ice cream supper?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. I thought you said they were at the Harris bakery?

A. I said they were in front.

Q. Who was Hutton with?

A. He was with Katie.

Q. Were you all together?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What time was it?

A. About 8 o'clock.

Q. Night or day?

A. Night.

Q. How do you know it was Saturday night?

A. Because they had a band concert that night.

Q. Do they have a band concert every Saturday night?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you eat ice cream?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who sat by you?

A. Jim Jones—Macon (Mo.) Republican.

ONE UNION VET IN NEXT LOWER HOUSE

Gen. Isaac R. Sherwood.

After March 4 of this year General Isaac R. Sherwood, "the grand old man of Toledo," will be the only "Civil War Union veteran left in the house of representatives. He will probably be the last ever to serve in the lower branch of congress.

In the present dying house there are four members of the Grand Army of the Republic. Three of these, Hill, of Connecticut, Thistlewood, of Illinois, and DeWolf, of Pennsylvania, staunch Republicans all, went down in the Democratic landslide last fall. Sherwood is a Democrat.

Princess Yelive.

that the production of Graustark should bring out a class of people interested in a drama where a problem involving both love and duty forms the basis of the theme. The book was probably one of the most widely read of its period and there is abundant room for one of the best plays ever produced on the American stage.

Two of the letters received yesterday were numbered among those upon which rewards were made. In deciding the merits several conditions were taken into consideration. Principally, however, the letters selected showed thought and a businesslike handling of a present day proposition. It was a task the contest editor would have been glad to shift to other shoulders, but whether the disappointed ones will admit that the judgment exercised was good, it is nevertheless a fact that the awards were made after conscientious thought and without taking into consideration the identity of a single one of the writers practically all of whom are absolutely unknown to The Republican.

The two letters included in the awards, which were received yesterday follow:

Duty and Honor First.

Putting myself in the Princess Yelive's position I would have married the prince to save my country and people. I could not see my people sold like slaves when I could save them even if love did have to be sacrificed. Duty and honor must come before love or else one will not be happy.

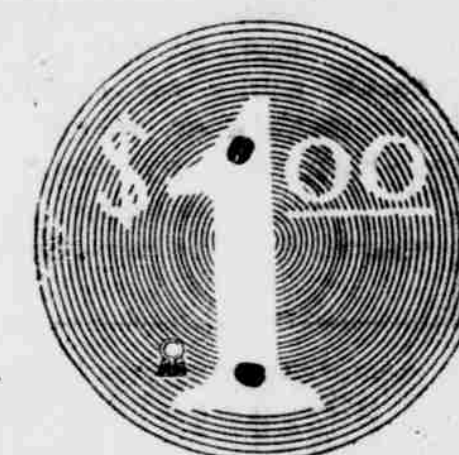

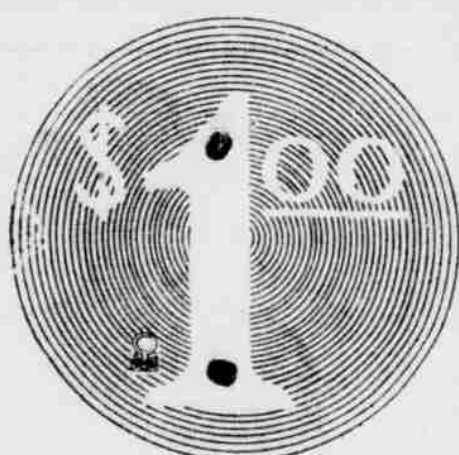

THELMA B. WALKER, Glendale.

A Progressive Thought.

Oh Yelive! How I pity a people whose government has such antiquated standards. What glory can there be in inheriting a throne if that inheritance forever denies one of liberty and happiness? You were not born a princess from choice. How can your marriage interfere with your government, or the happiness of your subjects? We are Americans and we hold this "truth to be self-evident, that all men are created equal." We judge the man according to himself, not by his ancestors. If you marry the man you love, you will be shaking off your country's yoke of tradition and adding her to become modern and progressive.
